From the National Intelligencer, of Sept. 26. An Interesting Letter.

GREENFIELD HILL, Sept. 22, 1863. MY DEAR SIR: Many thanks for our frien Walker's pamphlets, which are marked with his usual ability. In regard to Jefferson Davis as a repudiator, I know all about him, as I am a holder of Planter's Bank bonds for about twenty four years, and have never received a dollar of principal or interest, although they matured twenty years since. It was on one of my bonds, which I handed to him for that purpose, that John Quincy Adams made a remarkable speech in Congress, in which he was sustained by F. Granger, and opposed by Gwin, Jacob Thompson, et id omne genus but in the debate all the Mississippi speakers admitted the honesty of the claim, and as Dr. Gwin expressed himself, "pledged the last shirt off the back of the last man in Mississippi to be sold to pay that debt, if the means could not otherwise be raised." then these orators went home, and when the question of payment or repudiation was submitted to the people, they led the van of the repudiators. The debate arose on W. Cost Johnson's proposition in favor of the assumption of the State debts by the General Government, in 1842. I consider my bonds as worthless, but were I charged with the duty of reconstruction I would make it a condition on the part of the insurgent States that they should lay a tax to create a sinking fund for the gradual extinction of all debts fearing the broad seal of the respective States. I would have no dishonest partners in the new firm. Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama, and Georgia have always been true to their contracts not so Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida, or Texas. Better to live alone than live dishonor

I have been somewhat of a wanderer, ac companying an invalid daughter to Lebanon, Sharon, and West Point. At the Sharon Springs I passed some pleasant hours with my old friend Bradish—alas! now no more; and at West Point with Gen. Scott, Judge Wayne, and others. Gen. Scott is looking better than last year.

While at West Point I met with a friend of some thirty years' standing, born in Scot land, but who has lived all his mature life in Virginia, Louisiana, and Mississippi, and understands the commercial and other in terests of those States better than any man of my acquaintance. He has left with a large property on account of his hatred of secession, but does not hesitate to impute much of the blame to abolition intermeddling. His recent investigation lead him to the conviction that if the voice of the Southern people could be heard a large ma jority are in favor of returning to the old flag, and that nothing prevents its being heard but the existence of the emancipation and confiscation acts. If they were repeal ed, or a declaration on the part of Congress made with the same solemnity as that which defined the sole object of the war to be a restoration of the sovereignty of the Union, the whole matter would be settled in thirty days; the bulk of the army would disband and return to peaceful occupations. I remarked that the assurance had been vitually given in Mr. Seward's Circular, and would doubt less be carried out, that slaves who had availed themselves of the proclamation of of emancipation could not be re-enslaved but doubtless the loss would be indemnified by a money consideration, as in Missour and Maryland, and that the simple fact of falling into line under the loyal authorities of their respective States and electing Union members of Congress would restore the

He replied that Congress had erected an impassable barrier against such a return, by the oath required from members of Congress coming from Seceding States, to the effect not only that they would hereafter sustain the Federal Constitution, but that they had not directly or indirectly been engaged in opposing it; for he says that universal op position has been forced upon the Southern people, and that as far as the future is concerned the applicants for admission into Con gress would readily subscribe to it. He says that his old and much loved State of Virginia is now a desolate waste, and half a century would scarcely restore it; and I can conceive the desperation of the people when I see such men as Wm. C. Rives put ting forth such sentiments as those expressed in a recent published letter.

From this secluded height I look down in ing that in a brief space of time they and the great vortex which is the entrance to an and Tenth Regiments. abode "where sin and sorrow never enter."

A Visit to John Minor Botts.

The Army of the Potomac correspondent of the New York Herald thus describes a recent visit to John Minor Botts:

"It was my pleasure to take dinner yester day with Hon. John Minor Botts at his residence near here. His persecution by the leaders of the Southern Confederacy, culminating in his eight weeks imprisonment in the old Libby prison, has not diminished his rotundity of figure, the brightness of his keen gray eyes, the brilliancy of his wit, and, lastly and not least, his firm and uncompromising fidelity to the Union. His plantation, which he purchased in February last, comprises something over two thousand acres. dwelling, in size, is in keeping with the place, with an immense portico, with high and massive pillars, a wide spreading and well shaded lawn, and view of the surrounding country extended and picturesque. family, consisting of three grown up and accomplished daughters and a son, live with Rebel cavalry have been encamped on his ground most of the time for months It is well known that he is now enjoying his freedom through favor of a parol granted by the rebel authorities. IMPORTANT SPEECH BY EARL RUSSELL-NEUTRALITY TO BE MAINTAINED AT ALL HAZarps.-On September 9th, Earl Russell was presented with the freedom of the town of the People's Park in that town. -Provost Parker read the addresses of the town Council, in which reference was made to British neutrality in American affairs. In his reply Early Russell said:

A Working Man's Warning to the Eng-ISH ARISTOCRACY.—H. G. Moffat, a working man, thus speaks to the aristocratic symthe columns of the Daily News:

"It may be very fashionable with the upper ten thousand to sympathize with the lave-breeding aristocrats of the South, but ve of humbler birth have deeper ties that pind us to America both political and soial. When we see the great number leavng our shores for that great country, and as four out of six are relations of us common fellows, what will be our feelings? What of mine, having sisters and all that s very dear to me, if we see our men-of-war bombarding New York city, knowing morally we have been the cause? If we are not allowed to vote and make the governnent here, we will not quietly allow the peoole's government to be destroyed there. Working men are seldom heard in print up on this question; but let not our gentr, suppose there is no sympathy for the North here. They will make an awful mistake it they go to war with America. It may be popular with the rich, the snobs and city swells, but not with working men. Le them remember the Lancashire men stary. ing first sooner than lift up a finger against

PROFESSOR CAIRNES ON THE DEPRECIATION IN Gold.—Professor J. E. Cairnes writes to the London Times on the subject of the future depreciation of gold, as follows:

The prevailing opinion among those who iscussed the question at Newcastle was that while the effect up to the present had been slight, the movement would develop into larger proportions and increase in rapidity as it grew. For my part I am disposed to speaking, a little heavy all over. up to the present time has, I believe, been considerable-not less than twenty per cent; on the other hand, I hold (and in this I am supported by Mr. Jevons) that the most se rious effects of the gold discoveries have already been realized. The total mass of gold and silver in the world (and it is upon is, and not upon the gold alone that the new increments will tell) is vastly greate now than when the gold discoveries took place; and the difficulty of acting on its value s proportionally increased; on the other hand, the annual supplies, notwithstanding the operations in British Columbia and else where have fallen off. It is impossible to say what new discoveries may be made; but it is exceedingly unlikely that the ratio the new increment which was obtained during the first ter years after the Australian discoveries, will ever again be repeated. Under these circumstances, whatever may be the ultimate depreciation-a question which I do not enter upon here-the rate of the movement will in all probability, steadily diminish.

What a Woman can do.

As a wife and mother, woman can make the fortune and happiness of her children; and even if she did nothing else, surely this would be sufficient destiny. By her thrift, prudence and tact, she can secure to her partner and herself a competence in old age, no matter how small their beginning, r how adverse a fate occassionally be theirs By her cheerfulness she can restore her husband's spirits, shaken by the anxieties of ousiness. By her tender care she can often estore him to health, if disease has seized upon his overtasked powers. By her coun-Dundee, on the occasion of the opening of sel and her love, she can win him from bad precepts, and her sex's insight into charac-ter, she can mould her children, however diverse their dispositions, into good men and women. And by leading in all things a true and beautiful life, she can refine, vate and spiritualize all who come within reach, so that with others of her sex emu lating and assisting her she can do more to egenerate the world than all the statesmen or reformers that every legislated. She can legrade man, if she chooses to do it.

Who can estimate the evil that woman whimsical anecdote: has the power to do? LITTLE OVERWEIGHTED .- Those who visit the sick soldiers and do good in the hoshrough he may have lost all else save that and honor. Witness a sketch from life: —, good soul, after taking all the little comforts he could afford to give to the wounded soldiers, went into the hospitals for the fortieth time the other day, with his mite, consisting of several papers of cut chewing tobacco—solace for the wounded, as he called it. He came to one bed, where a poor fellow lay cheerfully humming a tune, and studying out faces on the papered wall "Got a fever?" asked C. "No," answered the soldier. "Got a cold?" "Yes, cold lead." "Where?" "Well, to tell you the truth, it's pretty well scattered. First, there's a bullet n my right arm-they hain't dug that out yet. One in my right leg-hit the bonethat fellow hurts. YIELDING TO THE PRESSURE.—The ladies have acquired a new art. There was a time when to tread on the flowing-or more properly over flowing-dress skirt of a woman of fashion involved a ripping of "plaits" and "gathers." She had to go into dock for repair at the nearest thread-and-needle store, and the slack of her sailing gear, like Com modore Bainbridge's nephew's pocket hand-kerchief, had to be "pinned in." All this is obviated now. If a discursive foot happens to plant itself on that portion of the feminine robe devoted to street-sweeping pur poses, the lady inside the parachute vields gracefully to the pressure, and by thus "givng" a little at the right moment, prevents he stitching from giving way. One cannot help fancying, from the Bedouin-Arab-like flexibility which is displayed on these occa sions, that the fair promenaders practice upon each other's dresses in private, and so acquire the surprising dexterity they exhibcompany, if temptation in an evil hour has it in public. Perhaps this new method of By her example, and her avoiding skirtwreck forms a branch of the new system of Calisthenics which has been introduced into our fashionable boardingschools. It is certainly a great relief to the men to feel that they can perambulate Broadway without serious peril to ladies who 'walk in silk attire."-N. Y. Ledger.

Grand Lodge. ment of Missouri, to the Federal military commandant of the Department of Missouri, Lodge. and to President Lincoln. They represent a party composed of antislavery zealots, German red republicans, and political agitators of the worst sort-demagogues, time-servers, and political gamblers, without delay. who expect to promote their own selfish in

This "Radical Emancipation" party is a curse to Missouri. They declare in effect that they will not obey the constituted authorities, and intimate that unless their demands are acceded to, they will take the matter in their own hands. In other words Mosby, who has been killed at least six the same crime which the rebels of the alive, and doing mischief. South have perpetrated.

The New York Times, one of the respectable Republican papers, in speaking of this party says :

There is a radical party in Missouri that is preaching as much contempt for national istration, as ever did the rebels themselves; and they do not scruple to advise volunteer and lawless organizations to defeat the regugravely resolved that the President should dismiss Gen. Halleck from his place as General-in-chief and turn Mr. Seward out of his Cabinet. A committee was sent to pleasure to the President. Mr. Lincoln's since to appoint a new commander to the Department of Missouri. The faction became more enraged at this act of the President than they were at his retention of Halleck and Seward. Within a week after Gen. Schofield entered upon his duties they commenced a bitter and unscrupulous warfare upon him, which has been continued to this day. Every effort that ingenuity could devise to bring contempt upon that officer personally, or to discredit his authority, or embarrass his administration, has been resorted to. The outbreaks of the guerrillas, in whatever part of the State, have been hailed with delight and exulted over as furnishing the opportunity of deriding Gen. Schofield and demanding his removal. It is clear that in their animosity to the man they have sunk all patriotism-as they have long since sunk all respect for the President and his administration

The National Intelligencer, a paper that, in the midst of the most exciting and eventful period of the worlds history, speaks with ical misrepresentations which these "Radical Emancipationists" habitually hold towards their loyal opponents and towards the President of the United States. They manifest in their political speech as little respect for decency as for truth, and offer in their organs a fair illustration of that malignity which seems to constitute the chief claim of political emancipationists to the rank and title of "philanthropists.

Denouncing their loyal and law-abiding neighbors as "Disunionists," they factiously Centreville, Evansville, Fort Wayne resist the Federal military commander in their district, and revile the President, from whom he holds his command. Indeed, they make the President an especial object of assault, and we find their chief organ, the St. Louis Democrat, speaking of the National Administration as "stubbornly planting itself in the path of reform," and again saying that the operations of "prowling robbers" and "assassins" are "invited and pro tected by the policy of the Government in Missouri." And, as if this were not enough they represent "Mr. Lincoln himself as ing as violently against 'reform' and 'freedom' as Mr. Vallandigham, and as guilty of the massacre at Lawrence as Quantrill.

This is the party which sends a delegation to Washington to dictate to the President. We hope, for his own good name, the honor of the nation, and the safety of Missouri, that he will deny their impudent demand. The threats implied in their address, should, in a proper manner, be rebuked by Mr. Lincoln. The nation will thank and honor fractory and self-willed dogmatism of these enemies to law and order, the Government, brigade in the fearful battles of Chickamauand the country.

The leader of the Abolition party in the last House of Representatives, the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, said in a recent speech proclamation of freedom, as it is called" because it was a superfluity.

Henry Winter Davis, formerly a conservative, but now acting with the Abolition party, in a recent speech in Philadelphia. said

"There are four millions of men in those regions on our side. They are slaves. The a title by arms.'

Gen. Jos. Hooker has been assigned tered brigade. a command in the field. Although he failed to take Richmond, we feel sure that, as a upon this fearful occasion, has won laurels, subordinate commander, he will manifest which (may it be in the far, far future years) that skill, energy, and gallantry, which he so signally displayed in the early battles of the war. Let him be, as he was at first, "fighting Joe Hooker," and the country will forget his testimony before the War Committee.

and a half year's service, an addition-al installment of bounty will be paid At the expiration of three years' ser-

the expiration of their term of enlistment, they shall receive, upon being mustered out, the whole amount of bounty remaining unpaid, the same as if the full term had been served. The legal heirs of volunteers who die in service shall be entitled to receive the whole bounty remaining unpaid at the time of the soldier's death.

The time of the soldier's death.

The term of service is three years or the war.

This is the only regiment of Veteran Cavalry to be raised in the State, and consequently is the only mounted Regiment which will receive the above splendid bounty. The inducements to enter this Regiment are believed to be unequalled by those offered by any other organization.

Communications are requested from such officers as may desire to raise Companies or Battalions for the Regiment, stating the number of recruits they can bring into the Regiment, their term of service and the Regiment with which they have een connected.

Full information will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

A furlough of thirty days is guaranteed such men as may re-enlist in this Regiment.

Camps of organization will be designated in
